
Bug Reporting

Posted by admin - 2008/09/08 13:56

Please report any bugs with Joomla AjaxChat here.

Please make sure to include:

- 1) The AjaxChat version
- 2) Joomla version
- 3) The URL where bug occurs, if possible.

Thank you.

I think this is a bug.

J1.5.7
PHP 5.2.3
AjaxChat for J1.5 Beta4

When i go into user management, all the site members are showing as authors when in joomla they are set as registered. Also, in the same column (Group), super administrator word doesnt show, it is just a blank field in the column for the super admins.

Also when in User Management you cannot use the Select Group dropdown box. There is no dropdowns to select from, so i cant narrow down user list to groups :(

cheers,
John

Admin Panel >> AJAX Chat

Menu Icons are missing

Bug Reporting - Explorer Scroll bug

Posted by victune - 2008/10/21 09:43

Hello,

I would like to report a bug on this site while using Explorer (IE6 & IE7 & IE8):

Explorer pop-up an error message while receiving invitation to a private chat.

The bug occur when someone invite you to a private chat, and then you try to scroll up or down the page (by mouse or keyboard). It's still occur even after closing the private chat window.

Please find attached a screenshot which show the bug:

Hi,

there is a session bug in the configurations.

when trying to save the configuration the user get kicked out of joomla.

Chat: J1.5 0.1-Beta4

(actually, there's another bug in the XML showing the wrong version)

J1.5.7

PHP 5.2.3

AjaxChat for J1.5 Beta4

I have changed the smilies path in the smilie management area of Ajaxchat to use the Fireboard smilies. They work fine in the chat, however the bug is that it only ever allows 1 smilie per post in the chat.

So if you try to add

:laugh::P

it will only show the first one

a (not so wild) guess would be that this is related to the position of the notification popup. so while you're at it fixing it, could you add a new position - center of screen?

Usernames with non-english characters (swedish in my case) is not rendered correctly. Oddly enough users with those characters does not get the avatar from CB rendered either.

Ajaxchat 1.1, Joomla 1.0.15

Can't make any changes

Posted by val1723 - 2009/02/13 09:23

Hello,

I am having a problem that seems to be a bug of sorts.

I purchased the product yesterday, got the link today and installed. When accessing the backend controls, I can't save any changes I make. I can't assign a different template, or save configuration changes... nothing works.

It seems like it could be a javascript issue, but I am not certain.

Joomla 1.0.15
Ajax 1.0.1

Sorry, it wasn't clear. The component you receive is for Joomla1.5 only.

I've emailed you the Joomla1.0 component and you can also download this component and extensions from the downloads page.

Joomla 1.5.8
Ajax Chat Version 1.0.1
URL www.trikedepot.com

I have the Shout module on the front page of my website and most evening you can find 6 to 9 of us chatting away between 9 and 11 eastern standard time.

The problem we keep running into is that if the saved messages seems to get to big in the mysql db the shout screen just goes blank. The only way I have found to fix it is to go into the admin backend and delet all but the last 15 or so messages and then I have to go in and find the table for Ajax Chat and Optmizie the table. Then the Shout box will go back to working fine for several days.

My guess is the bug is for saving messages. Default if I remember right is 500. Way to many in my opinion as this is a shout box. I turned mine all the way down to just 50 but it does not start erasing the old messages as it should at anything over 50. The program just keeps saving them until there is 200 to 300 and it quites working and I have to do the above procedure to get it back up and working correctly.

This is very disappointing.

I posted this bug two weeks ago and no response from the admin.

I continue to have the same problem and I am hoping that someone takes notice and fixes the problem.

Hello dtbcinci;

Sorry for the late response. I'll get you a fix for this ASAP and add the table optimizations and indexes to the AjaxChat installer.

Please send me an email, gabe@fijiwebdesign.com so that we can work out how to fix it directly on your site without reinstalling some another solution.

Regards,
Gabe.
