
speedy keeps crashing

Posted by philly0128 - 2008/12/10 05:20

I loaded this plugging on 3 sites, 2 live 1 demo and with just the turning everything to yes except for the debug, when I run my performance test it's perfect but when I go to the site I get a white screen or I will get some icons depending on what settings I turn on.

When I turn the debug on the site works but the performance shows nothing happening.

I'm running speedy tidy, also tried the regular speedy. 2 sites is using joomla 158 one site still on 157. I'm running php5, myphpadmin on a apache server.

I'm going to leave 1 of the site with the plugin on so hopefully someone can tell me what's going on please

<http://www.christiancompassion.com/demo>

=====

Re:speedy keeps crashing

Posted by philly0128 - 2008/12/11 19:26

I'm still looking for an answer to this problem if anyone can help me.

=====

Re:speedy keeps crashing

Posted by admin - 2008/12/11 20:51

Do you still have speedy enabled on <http://www.christiancompassion.com/demo> ?

Could you enable it but turn on debug also. It allows you to turn on speedy from the url by putting debug=1 in there and thus compare the two.

=====

Re:speedy keeps crashing

Posted by philly0128 - 2008/12/12 11:11

I have it turned on now at christinacompassion.com/demo the debugs are on
I have it turned on also at christianompassion.com/online and the debugs are turned off

=====

Re:speedy keeps crashing

Posted by philly0128 - 2008/12/13 15:52

did you get a chance to check out my site yet?

=====

Re:speedy keeps crashing

Posted by admin - 2008/12/16 01:52

I finally figured that the urls were typed in incorrectly instead of the sites being down.

I took a look but I don't think speedy is still on is it?

One of the most common problems is if you have gzip turned on in Joomla, and also in speedy.

=====

Re:speedy keeps crashing

Posted by Mike999 - 2009/03/07 14:33

Where is the gzip turned on in Joomla 1.0.x? So i can turn it off..

=====

Re:speedy keeps crashing

Posted by admin - 2009/03/08 05:26

In the Global Configuration.

In the Joomla1.0 Admin Panel go to:

Site -> Global Configuration -> Server (Tab)

=====

Re:speedy keeps crashing

Posted by Mike999 - 2009/03/08 09:19

It was set to off so that was ok then.

I have set the Debug Mode in the mambot to On. Is that right?

And how do i know that the speed is working?

You are talking in the forum om putting "debug=1" Where should i put that?

=====

Re:speedy keeps crashing

Posted by admin - 2009/03/08 19:46

Debug mode turns off the mambot. The mambot will only be turned on if you place debug=1 in the URL. For example, on your homepage.

<http://example.com/index.php?debug=1>

As far as knowing if it is working. The best way is to install the YSlow extension in Firefox, as well as the Firebug extension.

Take a look at the number of HTTP requests, they should decrease. Examine the file sizes, they should decrease. Overall load time should decrease.

=====